AT SETH'S SERENADE.

When Seth got married we had a bee,
and went up to his house for a shivaree.
They took drums, and some took pans,
and some took whistles, and some tin cans and strings in the bottom and resons to it.

and they howled like wildcats at every word.
and the loudest noise that ever was made
was the whoopstwow at Seth's serenade.

and we carried something beside the noise
to that little home, we girls and boys,
and after the bang, and fun, and dis,
and gave us an invite and we went in,
and under each arm was a bundle hid—
and loaded them down, that's what we did!
and of this and pounds of that—
and some were big and bags were fat, and then the equine a speech he made and the rest of the crowd at Seth's serenade.

and we have to wish you long life," said he,
and a way that is smooth and so straight
he can be.
and every day as you're startin' now
and a smile on your face and a care-free brow.
and bring you to-night—friends both and
day—
and all the cheer that starts any day,
and before we left we had coffee made—
and the best of the treat at Seth's
serenade.

and a Chase & Sanborn coffee can.
and before we left we had coffee made—
and the best of the treat at Seth's
serenade.

Chicago is amazingly healthy. At least that is what druggists say. The druggists in many parts of the city are closing their doors on account of decreased trade. Seven have suspended business on the south side since last Monday, and a number on the west and north sides have closed in the last ten days. The state of the public health has contributed largely to the present condition of the drug trade, but the temporary cessation of the ice cream soda, which is a big item to druggists, has played its share in the reduction of receipts. Some druggists, it is declared, have installed a chop suey and chili con carne lunch to take the place of iced beverages.
